

Local Athletics Eliminated From Black Cup Play-offs By 10-8 Score on Round

Lacombe Wins First Game in Wetaskiwin 4-3; Drops Second Decision to Maple Leafs 7-4 in Hard Fought Match Tuesday Night

Lacombe was eliminated from the Provincial Black Cup play-offs by Wetaskiwin on a total round score on the home and home series of 10-8. Lacombe won the first game at Wetaskiwin Saturday night 4-3 and dropped the decision on Lacombe ice Tuesday 7-4. Although the local team was far from disgraced, over 250 people braved the 30-below-zero temperatures Tuesday to see Wetaskiwin step into a commanding five-goal lead in the rugged first two periods, and then see Lacombe step up the play and all but tie the series up in a wide-open, exciting third frame. Wetaskiwin Maple Leafs hanged in four goals in the first period to leave the ice with that margin. The local boys were caught flat-footed and disorganized and the Leafs took full advantage of this fact. In the second period, the Leafs countered again and were credited with another goal when Cliff accidentally banged the puck into his own net to put Wetaskiwin six up. Penman countered once for Lacombe before the end of the middle period.

Blaze of Speed

The third period started in a blaze of speed, with Lacombe constantly power-playing. Miles and Roberts made the most of this fact. Penman hanged in a goal, only to have the counter disallowed, and Wetaskiwin broke from the face-off to make the count 7-3 in their favor. In the last two minutes Penman scored, and with Lacombe playing six men up (the goalie having been taken off) the rink was a bedlam as the boys did everything but score.

Cliff on defence and Penman on the first forward line were the outstanding stars of the Lacombe lineup.

With Brooks and Penman pacing, the Lacombe Athletics fought man and ball to tie the score over the Wetaskiwin Leafs Saturday night. Skating at top speed and back-checking furiously, the local team held the powerful Leaf sextette tied up, and well deserved their win.

Hal Haverstock, sparkling centre ice man of the local team, was seriously injured in the second period, when he was heavily checked by Paton at the Leaf defence. Hal suffered a concussion of the brain when he hit the ice, and was removed from the rink and rushed to Camrose by his father, where he was admitted to the Camrose hospital. Hope is held for his full recovery.

The first period was slow, with the two teams feeling each other out. Mohler countered for Wetaskiwin in a solo rush, the only goal of the first period. The second period opened with Lacombe pressing hard, and after one minute of play, Roberts hanged in Lacombe's first goal. Wetaskiwin moved ahead again on a counter by Weiss, but Mohler evened up the count on a beautiful passing play with Todd and Brooks. Chapman and Penman scored again to put the local team ahead for the first time, but Mohler countered before the end of the second period to leave the score at 3-3.

Wetaskiwin pressed hard in the final stanza, but Todd, with a hard-bitten defence in front, was unbeatable. Brooks scored a beautiful goal on a pass from Todd to win the game for Lacombe 4-3.

This Week's Thought

There is more heroism in self-denial than in deeds of arms.

To Build 3 Lean-tos At Local Fair Grounds

Three lean-tos which will accommodate about 60 head of horses will be erected at the Fair Grounds. It was learned from officials of the Lacombe Agricultural Society this week. The lean-tos are being built primarily for the Lacombe Farmers' Horse Sales, but will also be used during the Lacombe Fair.

One lean-to will be added to the south barn and will measure 10 feet by 100 feet. Two are being erected on either side of the north barn, each of which will be 10 by 50 feet. With over 450 head of horses already entered for the Lacombe Horse Sale to be held this year on March 15 and 16 the lean-to will provide ample feeding facilities for sale horses.

A total of 600 head are expected to be entered for the sale. Actual construction is expected to start as soon as the weather permits. Five hundred dollars has been allocated for the work.

Fifteen Dollars Raised at Valentine Tea Held Saturday

Cold, stormy weather detracted from the attendance at a pretty Valentine tea sponsored by the Young Ladies' Auxiliary on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 12. Tables and walls were gaily decorated with Valentine hearts and cupid and waitresses were attired in aprons and charming caps, fashioned in heart shape of red crepe paper, edged with a white trim.

Bowtell, Miss Jennie Frizzell, and presiding at the lake table were Mrs. M. G. Cruickshank, Mrs. W. W. Mills and Mrs. S. Mutch. Others assisting were Mrs. H. E. Wilson and Mrs. J. Edgington.

Only Two Fire Calls In Lacombe in 1937

With a total membership of seventeen, twenty-four practices were held during the twelve-month period, with an average practice attendance of fourteen members.

A fire inspection was made in the fall of all places of business in town, and fire hazards were recommended moved where possible.

The two calls answered last year by the brigade consisted of an alarm from the Skating Rink, at which there was no damage done, and one from Bill's Confectionery and Coffee Shop, which resulted in a fire loss of approximately $1500.

Unwin-Powell Sentences Create Controversy in Legislature

By T. B. WINDROSS

EDMONTON—Preliminaries to the actual work of the Alberta Legislature session were getting pretty well cleared away this week, and there were indications that consideration of legislation and the budget might get under way.

Provincial Treasurer SOLON Low announced Saturday that he hoped to have the budget introduced next Monday unless something unforeseen prevents it. If that aim is realized it will constitute just about the earliest session in Alberta's history that the budget has appeared.

The opening of the House last Thursday for the sixth session since the 1935 election coincided with the imprisonment of J. H. Unwin, M.L.A., and G. F. Powell, "Social Credit expert," for three and six months respectively. They began serving their sentences at practically the same moment as the legislature opened, and they were the subjects of dramatic scenes in the House

No Beauties Wanted

"Wanted—a homely girl to share my apartment with me." That was the ad that brought reporters hurrying to the home of Miss Frances Wood in Detroit. Scouting a story, they were treated gratis to the following piece of advice—"If you want to share my apartment with me, don't have a pretty girl for a roommate."

After the Riel Rebellion, he became city editor of the Winnipeg Free Press, and was later returned to London as editor of the Times. He later returned to Canada as special correspondent of the Times and on invitation of the Dominion government, wrote booklets on Ontario and the Maritime provinces. ## Over 700 Attend Old Time Fiddlers' Contest Held Friday Night

J. L. MacDonald of Landonville Wins "Under 50 Years" Class for Second Straight Year; Three Cups for Next Year

It was a great night for the Clan MacDonald at the Old-Time Fiddlers' Contest held in the Central Alberta Pavilion Friday night. J. N. B. MacDonald of Lacombe retained possession of the Inskip Cup, emblematic of the Fiddlers' Championship of Central Alberta, and J. L. "Slim" MacDonald of Landonville won the "under 50 years" class for the second straight year. Twenty-five fiddlers competed in the contest, which was divided into two classes, one for those over 50 years of age and the other for contestants under 50 years. Over 700 people braved the cold night to watch the contest and attend the dance which followed.

Entered in the "over 50" class, second to J. N. B. MacDonald in this class was A. H. J. Jevne of Wetaskiwin, and a special prize was awarded to Dan MacMillan of Fess, 84-year-old fiddler, for being the oldest contestant in the event. The Young-Time Fiddlers' Cup, put up for competition for the first time this year, attracted 16 entrants. Next to J. L. MacDonald in this division was J. F. Rowland of Lacombe. Bert White of Edmonton took third place in this class, and a special prize was awarded to Mrs. David Roden of Spruceville. Mrs. Walter Butlin, the only woman contestant in last year's competition, was unable to appear on account of illness.

Presentations of Prizes The cups and prizes were presented by A. T. Inskip, donor of the cups, who informed those present that next year another cup would be put up for competition for those contestants under 30 years of age. The interest shown in the event this year proves without a doubt that the annual contest is growing in popularity.

In memory of Cameron Fraser, one of the originators of the Old-Time Fiddlers' Contests, a two-minute silence was observed and Mrs. M. L. Flewelling played a piano solo in his memory.

J. Soverby, president of St. Cyprian's Men's Club, which sponsored the event, acted as chairman. T. W. H. Lewis was the chairman of the Dance Committee and it was largely due to his untiring efforts that the contest was such a success.

A Municipal Problem

THE financial statement of the Municipal District of Crown for the year 1937 shows an increase in expenditure on Relief and Health of slightly over $3,000. This increase is hard to understand in view of the fact that farmers, on the whole, received more for their crops this year than was received last year. Notwithstanding this, however, the relief and hospitalization costs are continuing to mount again this winter.

Responsible for this, to a certain extent, are farmers of the district who "import" outside labor and keep the hired hand, and his family, if such be the case, for three or four months. At the end of this period, the laborer (or a member of his family) becomes ill. The farmer or employer has not the means to furnish the sick person with medical care, nor has the laborer, himself, enough to pay the cost. The man then becomes a charge on the Municipal District. Under Provincial Legislation, the Municipal District is forced to bear the full cost of hospitalization for indigents who have resided in their district for more than three months.

This does not mean that farmers should do away with hired help, but would it not be much more reasonable for the ratepayers of the District and just as satisfactory to the farmer to obtain his help from within the Municipal District in which he resides? By doing this, relief costs would be cut considerably, and the Municipality would have less expense for the care of these indigent sick, who are, generally speaking, transients, and will drift on after convalescing.

Where Has it Gone?

POSSIBILITIES of Alberta taxes being further increased has aroused in the electors of the Province a curiosity to inspect the Public Accounts which will be presented at the present Legislature session. Social Crediters point with a great deal of pride to the fact that the present government has not increased the bonded indebtedness of the Province. It surely hasn't, and it would be impossible for it to do so, because of the serious impairment in Alberta's credit brought on by the actions of Premier Aberhart and his government. Investors' faith in the integrity of the present regime is gone.

Another point arises which is worthy of consideration. Under the provisions of "The Provincial Securities Act," passed by the present government, interest will be exempted on one of the bond issues of the Province of Alberta has been paid at only one half of the interest coupon rate. Premier Aberhart has saved well over $2,000,000 for his government in the past two years by this action. In addition, the government has defaulted on bonds totalling $5,811,000. Add to this sum approximately $6,000,000 for defaulted savings certificates and the sizeable total of over twelve millions is reached. No wonder the present government has found it unnecessary to float a bond issue!

By forfeiting on debenture payments and slashing interest rates, Premier Aberhart has hit upon a much less business-like method of swelling his coffers than by floating a new bond issue. He has broken faith, and by doing so, has done irreparable damage to the credit of Alberta, such damage that this province will be an outcast in the investment market for years to come. At the same time, Aberhart has done just that which he claims a bond issue would do: he has mortgaged the present against the future, for until these defaulted payments are met, Alberta's credit will not be worth a plugged nickel in the financial markets of the world.

This article can close only the way it began. Electors will be interested in those public accounts which will show where this twelve million dollars has gone, where the revenue from already increased taxes has been spent, and why Premier Aberhart is considering the raising of an even greater sum through the medium of taxation this coming year.

THRIFT NOTE

When Queen Victoria was on her way to Balmoral Castle, a Scottish gentleman, whose gardens were noted for their fine fruit, sent a basket of both house grapes to her. Graciously she acknowledged the gift in a personal letter, and complimented the donor on the excellence of his grapes.

Thinking that his old gardener would be pleased to share the compliment, the gentleman handed the letter to him, saying, "Here Sandy, that's from the Queen."

Sandy read the letter carefully; and after a long pause said, "She disna say onythin' about sendin' back the basket!"

St. Louis Star-Times: All you need to enjoy a winter retreat is plenty of money and the nice heating system you left back home.

Through the Eyes of a Country Woman

By BRIDGET

No less a person than Dean Alexander of the University of Alberta has, from the public platform, advocated a Western Parliament, a United West. Having advocated this, a few weeks back, in the columns of this newspaper, I feel quite a glow of satisfaction to think that my conviction finds some merit in the eyes of one who has deservedly won the reputation of a brilliant thinker. The Dean was speaking in Edmonton, and he advised the audience to ask themselves at the conclusion of reading an editorial, or listening to a professor's lecture, etc., that devastating, and at the moment, popular phrase, "So what?" After reading his remarks, I asked myself, "So what?" Did it change my views? No, the more I think about the subject, the more I am firmly convinced that my little effort at constructive criticism, while not being a panacea for all our ills, is, at least, a possible solution of some, and that is surely a step in the right direction. After all, there is no use offering a lot of destructive criticism if one has not a few constructive ideas on the subject.

Someone in the East has spoke of being "tired of carrying the West." My own observations lead me to believe this to be an entirely erroneous view of the Canadian's troubles. The reverse might be more nearly correct, doesn't forget the eastern manufacturer has to make his profits, the railroads have to make some showing, the speculator is only satisfied with a good, big dividend. These profits and dividends don't stay in the West. The East, far from having to "carry the West," may strike the long-suffering Westerner once in a while, the right way, so that these nice profits may still flow without interruption into the pockets of the industrialists, etc., etc. How many really wealthy people live in the West? Not many, this is strange, as a vast portion of Canada's real wealth comes from the Western Provinces. Western Canada has unlimited possibilities if able to develop along its own lines. We in the West do not, the East's "poor relation"—we are really very rich, and useful connections, of whom they should be justly proud, and to whom they owe much of their prosperity. Why was it the East was not a bit helpful in helping the West get easier and nearer outlets for their produce? Surely, if we are such a burden to them, the East should be very thankful when we try to do all our trading westward, and do our best not to clutter up their ports with our produce. What do they want? Where is their gratitude?

If the East really feels this way towards us, it is the very time for the Western Provinces to get together and work for the good of their peoples, and the division of Canada into two, with a single Parliament for each half.

Wipe out all these petty parliaments, and their pretentiousness; get rid of their numerous M.L.A.'s and duplicated ministries, and, above all, establish the Civil Service on a sound basis.

It has been stated that Civil Servants will not do their best work if at variance with the political powers that be. That is a ridiculous statement, and not worthy of an honest man's consideration. No one can work well with the fear of undeserved dismissal always with them. From seven years' Civil Service experience I can say, without fear of contradiction, that a Conservative, Liberal or Socialist can work just as well as he other—if they are the right stuff; and if they are not, they are not liable to get into the service. Our chief and his deputy didn't change every time there was an election, in fact I doubt if anyone in the office knew what party they favored. Politics were not discussed in the office; the staff was there to do their job, and as long as it was well done, they knew their job was safe and gave of their best. To discharge faithful Civil Servants on account of their politics is not in accordance with the standard of British justice to which we are accustomed.

Speaking of British justice, it is reassuring to feel that however highly placed an individual is, he cannot abuse his fellow men on paper by virtue of his high office. I refer to the recent case where two men holding posts in and with the Government, respectively, were sentenced to prison, and the Supreme Court of Alberta upheld this decision. The Minister of Justice very rightly refused to interfere in this purely domestic affair. When such extraordinary events are taking place in our midst, and our very livelihoods are in jeopardy, it is refreshing, at least, to know that British justice still stands firm in the midst of the silted sands of ridiculous theories.

THE QUESTION OF UNITY

Editor, Western Globe:
Dear Sir,—Please permit me a little space to reply to, or should I say comment on, your editorial of Jan. 27, entitled "A Blow to Unity."

There are several remarks in your editorial which, I believe, arise from a series of misconceptions of the U.F.A.'s participation in politics.

In the first place, the proposed "Unity" movement is NOT, according to some of its sponsors, an "affiliation" of political parties. It is, understood, intended to be a gathering together of people on the basis of citizenship, and not by any means a representation of any or all political parties.

Secondly, the U.F.A. in politics has never been, and is not now, "party" in the generally accepted sense of the term. The decision as to whether any constituency should be contested, and the nomination of a candidate, have always been, and are today, in the hands of the members within the constituency. The convention assembled. Furthermore, no member of the U.F.A. is under any compulsion to support, in any way, the policies for which the U.F.A. stands in the political field.

Many good U.F.A. members would like only too well to drop politics altogether, but many feel that in the present critical situation, and with the unfortunate distrust of almost all political efforts that seems to be in the minds of a majority of Alberta citizens, that the U.F.A. must not drop out at the moment. It has to its hand a weapon, the power to contest elections under its own name. Many people believe that the U.F.A. is a sound and reasonable organization, that it will not promise that which it cannot perform. Shall the U.F.A., then, throw away its weapon and disregard the trust that is undoubtedly reposed in it, or shall it guard it carefully, clean and sharp, not brandishing it wildly at all times, but ready and able to use it if the need arises?

You say "with only two parties in the field," etc. What assurance have we that there will be "only two parties in the field"? While, no doubt, highly desirable, and likely to be even more desirable if a certain event takes place before the next provincial election, nevertheless, indications are that it is exceedingly unlikely that there will be only two, or even only three, parties in the field when the starting gun is fired.

May I thank you, Sir, for generous space accorded me at various times, and express my appreciation of a paper and an Editor with a policy that its sponsor is not afraid to air?

Yours sincerely,
H. E. HEATH.

UNITED KINGDOM IMPORTS LARGE QUANTITY OF EGGS

As an insight into the capacity of the United Kingdom as a user of food, almost all the British Empire's exports of eggs, two-thirds of the egg exports from Denmark and Poland, half of the egg shipments from the Netherlands and China, and one-third of the egg exports from Egypt, together with the home production in Britain, were absorbed by the British market in 1936.

Do You Know?

who has seen 36 winters come and go in Lacombe? Mr. Scott was born in Carleton Place, Ontario, 32 miles from Ottawa, in 1879. His father was a farmer, and after finishing his education at the rural school, Earl worked for his Dad at farming until 1897, at which time he started learning his trade, barbing, in Carleton Place. In September of 1899 Earl left his birthplace and travelled to Hat Portage (now Kenora) in the Lake of the Woods district. Here he worked for almost a year, travelling and practicing his trade through the mining districts. It was while working in this district that Earl made the acquaintance of Gabriel Dumont, who was a lieutenant of Louis Riel at the time of the 1885 rebellion. "A nice fellow, too," said Mr. Scott when speaking of the man.

In June, 1900, Earl left the Lake of the Woods district and hit west, landing in Lacombe on July 1, 1900. Here he opened up one of the first, if not the first, barber shop between Calgary and Edmonton, on the site where Sweet's Pharmacy now stands, and, at that time, adjoining the old Victoria Hotel. He stayed in that location for three years; moved around town a few times for the next four years and located in the shop which he now occupies in the Adelphi Hotel in 1907.

In partnership with R. V. Bagley, Mr. Scott operated a cattle ranch along the Red Deer River, and in 1911 acquired the quarter section which he now owns, one mile directly east of Lacombe. In 1917 Earl was married to Miss Mary McDonald in Edmonton by Dr. D. A. McQueen. They have one son, Dick, attending the local High School.

Find Ancient Cloth In Swiss Alps Cave

Explorers in mountain caves of the Swiss Lake Dwellers, who lived 10,000 years ago, have discovered pieces of cloth that are older than written history. Up to 150 years ago, the only known methods of spinning were by the handwheel, or by the still more primitive distaff and spindle. But ever since 1767, when the Lancashire weaver, Hargreaves, invented the Spinning Jenny, tremendous technical improvements have been taking place. Today, textile manufacturers stand as on of the most progressive and up-to-date of industries.

The first machines set up on the North American continent were in New England in 1783. The Canadian industry got under way at a little later date, but compared to any other manufacturing industry in this country, our cotton textile business is relatively very old.

At the present time there are 100 establishments, operating in seven provinces. Over 21,000 people are directly employed, of which 36 per cent are women. Many more thousands find work in supplying materials of Canadian origin, such as rayon yarns, spools, tubes and packing materials. The direct and indirect employees of the cotton textile industry form a large body of consumers of Canadian farm and other products, both from the East and West.

Since 1932 the total domestic market for cotton cloth has gradually increased, and the production of the mills has also increased. Due, however, to successive duty reductions, the Canadian mills have lost ground as compared to imports, the rates on cotton goods coming into Canada now being lower than those of any other important cotton manufacturing country in the world.

Springfield, Mass., is the capital of that State.

Answer.—They provide your dependants a guaranteed sum in the event of your death—or provide money for your old age.

Question.—What is done with the premiums you pay?

Answer.—The savings which you put into Life Insurance are combined with those of other policyholders and are carefully invested in the best interests of all policyholders.

Q.—What is the guarantee back of these invested funds?

A.—The security of the individual loans, in addition to the integrity of the borrowers—whether governments, corporations, or individuals.

Q.—Why are premiums called savings?

A.—Because, year after year, they build up the fund out of which payments to policyholders and beneficiaries are made.

Q.—How much of this money is paid out to policyholders and beneficiaries in Canada?

A.—Half a Million Dollars every business day.

This is the second of a series of messages sponsored by Life Insurance Companies operating in Canada. The third, to appear in two weeks' time, will discuss Life Insurance assets.

The World of Wheat

By MAJOR H. L. STRANGE

The International Wheat Advisory Committee has made another forecast to the effect that "IF the present acreage of wheat in the world should be maintained and IF the yield per acre in every country should be normal, and IF the demand for wheat should remain as low as it is at present, then on Aug. 1st, 1940, there would be a huge surplus of wheat in the world of 1,370 million bushels."

Has this forecast founded upon so many "IFs" any value, I have been asked? My reply is that it is not a forecast at all, but simply a mere guess.

It is true that it might occur, but actually one can tell, for any such prediction depends upon a knowledge of future yields per acre, which yields are governed by future weather, and meteorologists tell us that no one can accurately forecast the weather for more than a few hours ahead.

Guessing the future, as a rule, is a harmless pastime. The sadness is, however, that whenever the International Wheat Committee makes its long-range, gloomy guesses, the market becomes unsettled, the price of wheat tends to fall, and so the producer is harmed.

In 1933 the same committee made much the same guess, and proved to be absolutely and entirely wrong.

THE REASON FOR EDUCATION

Education is the knowledge of how to use the whole of one's self. Men are often like knives with many blades; they know how to open one and only one; all the rest are buried in the handle, and are no better than they would have been if the knife had been made with but one blade. Many men use but one or two faculties out of the score with which they are endowed. A man is educated who knows how to make a tool of every faculty; how to open it, how to keep it sharp, learning to apply it to all practical purposes.—Henry Ward Beecher.

"When you asked her to dance did she accept quickly?" "Did she? Why, she was on my feet in an instant."
